GHOSTSHRIMP

ILLUSTRATION CO.

Planet Earth's polarities are harmoniously aligned through the antics of ghost-chasing children smoking cigarettes. Mesmerizing illustrations posting out of the Ghostwood National Forest is awakening the world to the true nature of never being a pussy. The Ghostscout Leader himself, Daniel Bandit, has taken time from his rustic rebellion in design to share with us the power of living forever while reminding the Hooter's franchise that their Vermont chapter is lacking in locations.

CBN: What is the physical composition of a ghostshrimp?

DB: Dark matter probably, if we had to guess. Nobody has ever really seen one, mostly because they are said to live in that smokey place where wakefulness turns into sleep. In between the tangible world and the space that dreams occupy. But if you've ever pooped and wiped, but nothing was there on the paper, that's called a ghost wipe – and that means a ghostshrimp just walked over your grave.

If ghostshrimp was an acronym what would the letters mean?

GEESE HAUNT OLDER SLUTS TERRIBLY SOMETIMES HERE, RIGHT INSIDE MY PORSCHE.

How many ghostscouts does it take to change a solar panel?

That's a trick question. CARL WEATHERS always does our electrical work. He's a super nice guy. He pretty much retired from acting after PREDATOR and joined the local electricians union. It was always his biggest passion. He literally walked away from millions of loose women to pursue his dreams. Not everybody would be able to do that. Look at DANNY "STUBBS" GLOVER. He tried his hand at the spice rub game, but he couldn't cut free from his Hollywood ties. Eventually it cost him his life.

What creates a majestic work space?

Well it doesn't seem like they have that many HOOTERS franchises up here in VERMONT. Not around us anyway. This year at GHOSTSCOUT TRAINING CAMP we're going to be building a giant birdhouse, big enough for one human to draw inside, over looking our pond. That will probably be the best place to draw that we can think of right now. We're also going to make some drawing shelters out of trees we cleared during camp last year. Lincoln log style. That's where all the new cadets will work on their assignments. They draw for 5 hours every day while they're here, so they need a dry shady place to harness the magic. Plus they need solid fortifications to defend against Indians, aliens, and the ghosts of old gold miners.

Can mere mortals really become ghostscouts? What are the requirements?

Anybody that isn't a pussy can become a member of the SECRET SOCIETY OF GHOSTSCOUTS. Well, that's what we say anyway, but like with anything in this life, it's not really up to anybody is it? Who can say why someone ends up spending a month in the GHOSTSHRIMP NATIONAL FOREST, other than that is obviously where they were meant to be, right? At that point, how could they possibly be anywhere else? Everything they've done since their birth has been a slow, inevitable journey into our wood lands. It's one of those things that is either going to happen or it isn't. You're either born to be a GHOSTSCOUT or you aren't. Like SHAQUILLE ONIEL always says, "Don't fake the funk on a nasty dunk."

Basically, all anyone has to do is request an application, fill it out, and send it back to us. We are about to send out a big batch of new applications right now. For TRAINING CAMP this August we've received requests from AUSTRALIA, FRANCE, ENGLAND, MEXICO, CANADA and of course lots from all over AMERICA.
